

How to support your child acquire values.

1
Being a good example to your child

2 Setting simple rules at home
such as respecting others

3 Correcting your child with love

4
Giving your child work that match their age

5
Involving your child in decision-making

6
Encouraging positive family habits such as eating together

7
Praising and rewarding
good behaviour

8
Sharing stories with moral lessons

9
Allowing your child to talk to you freely

10
Attending parents' meetings and academic clinics

11
Using wall hangings
that display values

12
Supporting your child
in their schoolwork

Nurturing Values

KENYA INSTITUTE OF CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

A Skilled and Ethical Society

Some of the ways you can find out if your child is practising values

Observing how the child talks with others,

Paying attention to what your child says,

Checking if a child can tell the lesson from a story,

Asking the teacher what your child says or does in school,

Checking what your child does with peers,

Observing whether your child completes the duties given,

Observing the way your child treats others.